

App goal: Board game app designed for in person play for “odd man out” games. These are games that give everyone in the party the same information but withhold it from one. The goal of the group is to figure out who doesn’t know and the goal of odd man out is to blend in and find out the shared info.

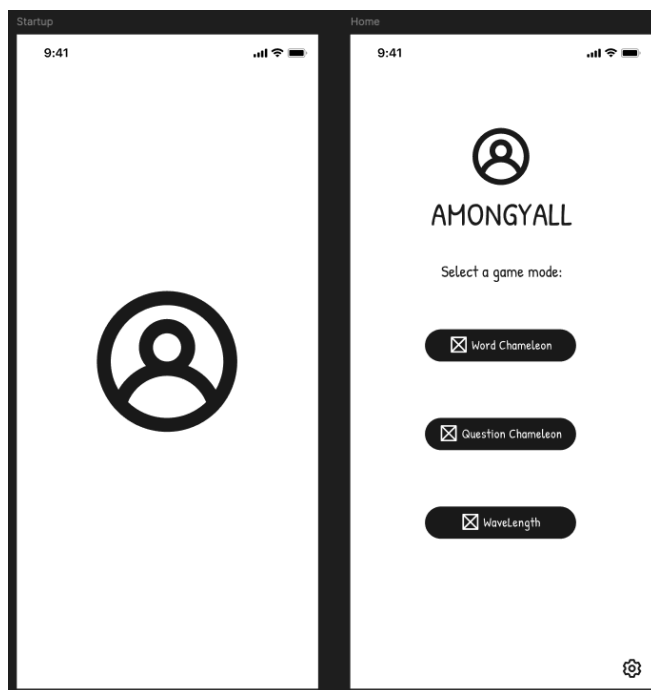

- Chameleon Word - In this mode everyone is given a word except one
- Chameleon Question - In this mode everyone will input their answer to a question, but one person will receive a different question. The group must figure out who was given the different question
- Wavelength - Given two choices (extremes) on a number line the players must give a clue to the position on the number line that is highlighted. Get more points if it is closer
